

Turf Blue®Pro Product Information Sheet

Kentucky bluegrass is a perennial sod-forming grass that spreads by strong rhizomes and seeds. This means it is a tightly-knit turf that has side lateral growth capability, can fill in gaps, which also means it has the ability to mend itself when damaged. If you want to use a bluegrass on your lawn, sports field, or golf course, Turf Blue®Pro is the right choice for you. The Turf Blue® Pro is a blend of exceptional Kentucky bluegrass varieties, powered by the high NTEP ranking variety, Barserati. This new blend is formulated for a rapid establishment with exceptional turf quality and turf density that provides early competition against weeds and is very disease resistant. The nature of this blend makes an extremely dense, dark, medium-fine textured turf that actively fills in and stays thick.

Things to know about Kentucky bluegrass:

- Beautiful green color
- Thin blades that create a dense, thick lawn that is soft to the touch
- Ability to rapidly repair itself and fill in gaps
- Great for golf courses, sports fields, parks, and residential yards
- It has a rapid root establishment (about 2 -4 weeks)
- Superior wear tolerance once established
- Can be mowed from 5/8" to 3" high

Things to consider if choosing Kentucky bluegrass for your project:

- It requires full sun to minimum shade. If your yard is mostly in the shade then Kentucky Bluegrass would not be the right choice for you
- It thrives well with a deep enriched soil bed. If your soil has a lot of sand or clay than Kentucky Bluegrass would not be the right choice for you
- Requires a consistent watering and fertilizer schedule so irrigation systems are extremely helpful
- Overall care and maintenance: Moderately High
